A PROTECTIVE TARIFF—ITS BENEFITS.

Ought American working men to be satisfied with the fact that they are not after all, quite as badly off as the half-starved peasantry of Ireland or the scantily paid laborers of England? Is this the entertainment to which protection invites "American labor?" And do "intelligent American laborers" believe that they owe their better condition as compared with the pauper laborers of Europe" to "a Republican protective tariff" or is it not attributable to causes over which protectionists have no control?—a comparatively sparsely settled country—abundance of unoccupied land—and the larger opportunities always open to labor and enterprise in a new and growing community? The prosperity which the country enjoys—its progress in art and in science, its advance in all departments of industry, its boundless agricultural wealth, the excellence of its annual crops, the salubrity of its climate—all is attributed to the workings of "a Republican protective tariff" by its worshippers. —The New Age

The New Age admits in the foregoing that American workmen are better off than laborers in Ireland and England. Mr Hewitt, of New York, a Democratic member of the national House, estimates wages in this country to be fifty per cent. higher than in England and Ireland. This is not a small difference, it is the difference between half starvation and good, comfortable living This fifty per cent additional wages which the American laborer gets is what draws from Europe the great crowd of emigrants which are continually seeking the shores of America. They come from free trade countries to a country which has a protective tariff, to larger wages, comfortable homes, schools for their children, larger independence and manliness, —this is the entertainment to which they are invited by protection.

But the New Age ridicules the idea that the prosperity of this country is due in any measure to protection and attributes it to other causes. But facts do not agree with the position taken by our neighbor

This country has been living under the present protective tariff since 1861. During the time since it was enacted we have had four years of bloody and expensive war This tariff not only supplied sinews to carry the government through that war, but when the war closed it furnished means to pay the interest on the national debt and reduce the principal year by year, to pension the soldiers and support the widows and orphans made by the war, and to give such an impetus to national growth and development in all material directions as this country and no other country ever saw before in an equal period of time. Let us mention a few facts.

Before the tariff of 1861, under the administration of Mr. Buchanan, the government had to pay twelve per cent. interest upon a loan which it was obliged to make Now, after twenty years trial of the protective tariff and a great war with the tremendous burden of debt it brought upon the country, the government can obtain all the money it desires for three and one-half to three per cent Without a protective tariff the government would probably have been bankrupt by this time

When the war closed in 1866 the national debt, July 1, was $3,756,431,[illegible] The debt July 1, 1882, was $1,675[illegible] The debt has been reduced in [illegible] years more than one thousand million dollars. The annual interest charge on the debt in 1865 was $150,977,637 [illegible] it is $57,360,110 72. The interest per capita of the population in 1865 was $4 [illegible] 1882 it is $1 09 Without a protective tariff such a splendid exhibit of reduction of debt and interest would have been impossible.

The production of our agricultural staples has also been largely increased under a protective tariff. In the fiscal year, 1859, we exported [illegible] pounds of cotton, and in the fiscal year 1881, we exported 2,191,078 773 pounds In the fiscal year 1859 we exported 9 004,016 bushels of wheat, and in the fiscal year 1881 we exported 150,565,477 bushels. In the fiscal year 1859 we exported [illegible] bushels of corn, and in the fiscal year 1881 we exported 91,498,175 bushels.

Our foreign trade under protection has been healthy. The total [illegible] imports and net exports of merchandise and specie has increased from $700,768,771 in 1866, to $1,503,139,176 in 1881. From this trade resulted a balance in our favor which enabled us to resume specie payments in 1879 and maintain them in spite of the opposition and croaking of the Democratic opposition.

Under a protective tariff railroads have increased wonderfully. In 1861 we had but 30,635 miles of railroad; at the close of 1881 we had 100,000 miles. At the same time the cost of transportation by railroads has been very much lessened. Through the same favoring influence manufactures have grown immensely, both in numbers and variety, making us more independent of foreign countries, and building up villages and cities with home markets for agricultural products that have been of great advantage to farmers in their neighborhood.

In the twenty years from 1861 to 1882, both years inclusive, our population has increased by immigration 5,378,728 souls, which would not be the case were our protective tariff a hindrance to the prosperity of laboring people. This very year there has been such an increase of immigration, that if it continues as it has been for the first six months of the year, at least one million of persons will be added to our population from this source alone before the year closes.

The foregoing are a few of the many facts showing the great prosperity of this country while under a protective tariff, adopted at the beginning of a war which threatened the destruction of the government, which copperheads predicted we never could subdue, and (even if we succeeded in crushing the military power of the South would in turn crush us by rendering the nation bankrupt. These being the fruits in part of a protective tariff, seen and known by all men, it is not in the power of Democratic free trade advocates to make them cause find acceptance in the eyes of the laboring men of America, whose interests lie in keeping down the free trade blight which has cursed England and Ireland. And would equally curse this country could it get a firm foothold here.

The famous Powers-Mitchell case will be again argued before the law court in Portland, this week. This case has been tried three times in Kennebec county, with a disagreement of the jury at the first trial, a verdict for the defendant at the second trial, which was set aside by the law court as being against evidence, and a disagreement of the jury at the third trial. Finally a motion for change of venue to Cumberland county, on ground that the plaintiff could not get a fair trial in Augusta, was granted. The defendant excepted to the legality of this transfer and that is the present subject of controversy. The suit is for damages on account of injuries sustained by the plaintiff, Miss Serena L. When the war broke out he enlisted as a private, afterwards being appointed to a position on Gen. Sprague's staff. When the Sprague estate purchased the mill property and dam in Augusta, Col. DeWitt, in the employ of civil engineer, drew up a plan of the property. In the spring of '67, he was appointed superintendent of the mills, and agent for the company, in Augusta, both of which he held until 1877, when he severed his connection with the company. Nearly all the improvements ever made on the mill property, by the Spragues, was made by Col. DeWitt's agency. Afterward he became a company with Hon. J. POLITICAL ASSESSMENTS.

THE OPINION OF ATTORNEY GENERAL BREWSTER—MEMBERS OF CONGRESS NOT OFFICERS OF THE GOVERNMENT.

The following is the opinion of the Attorney General on the subject of political assessments, submitted at the Cabinet meeting, Wednesday:

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, Washington, July 21, 1882.

To Hon. Charles J. Folger, Secretary of the Treasury

SIR—I have considered the question suggested by Mr. A. Thomas, Chief of a Division in the office of the Second Comptroller, in his letter of the 6th inst., in compliance with your request indorsed thereon under date of the 8th inst. By section six of the act of August 15, 1876, chapter 287, all executive officers or employes of the United States not appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, are prohibited from requesting, giving to, or receiving from any other officer or employe of the Government any money, property, or other thing of value for political purposes, etc., and the inquiry is whether a member of Congress is an officer of the Government within the meaning of this provision? Unquestionably the relation of members of Congress, Senator or Representative, is a public office, taking these terms in a broad and general sense, and the incumbent thereof must be regarded as an officer of the Government in the same sense. Thus provision is made for administering "an oath of office" to the members of both houses of Congress (sections 28 or 30, Revised Statutes). So the words, "every person appointed or elected to any office of honor or profit, either in the civil, military or naval service," employed in section 1756, Revised Statutes, which prescribes an oath of office, includes members of Congress; so in section 1726, which provides that "whenever any person holding office, except as a member of Congress," etc. The station of members of Congress is distinctly recognized as an office; but it seems that a member of Congress is not an officer of the United States in the constitutional meaning of the term In the case of Blount, an impeachment trial before the Senate in 1799, the question arose whether a Senator was a civil officer of the United States within the purview of the Constitution, and the Senate decided that he was not. This question arose under the fourth section of the second article of the Constitution. Other clauses of the Constitution would seem to favor the same result, particularly the clause respecting appointments of officers of the United States by the Executive, who is to commission all the officers of the United States, and the sixth section of the first article, which declares that no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office; and the first section of the second article, which declares that no Senator or Representative or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an Elector. To these clauses may be added Section 3 of the fourteenth article, which provides that "no person shall be a Senator, etc., who has not previously taken an oath as a member of Congress or as an officer of the United States." These clauses show a marked discrimination between members of Congress and officers, the latter term in the sense in which it is there used, not including legislators. In the penal legislation of Congress a like discrimination is made. Sec, for example, the second, third, and sixth sections of the act of February 26, 1863, chapter 81. That the words "any officer of the United States," found in the second section of that act, do not include members of Congress, is manifest from the enactment of the third section, in which they are specially designated In the sixth section the same words are used in a similar restricted sense Compare also sections 1781 and 1782, Revised Statutes; and sections 5450 and 5451, Revised Statutes, and sections 5500 and 5501, Revised Statutes In legislation of this character the word officer appears to be uniformly employed in a sense not more comprehensive than that in which it is employed in the Constitution as above, that is to say, not in that broad and general sense, which would include members of the legislative branch of the Government. Section 6 of the act of Aug. 15, 1876, being legislation of the same character as that just referred to, it is fair to assume that the word "officer" is there used in the narrower sense adverted to, and that it does not include a member of Congress The provisions of that section are intended to regulate the conduct of the inferior officers of the Executive Department of the Government, etc., with respect to these and other officers, etc., who are in the public service, as ordinarily understood. To place a construction thereon which would embrace among the latter those who are not officers in the common acceptation of the word, and thus enlarge the penal effect of those provisions, would not be warranted by any sound rule of interpretation. Upon these considerations I am of opinion that a member of Congress is not an officer of the Government within the meaning of that section.

I am, sir, very respectfully,

BENJAMIN HARRIS BREWSTER, Attorney General.

UNAPPRECIATED ELOQUENCE.

Our publication of the entire Argus report of Congressman Ladd's "opening" speech attracted to that masterly effort an amount of attention far exceeding that of the patient little band of listeners in Portland. The members of his own party here are said to be as much puzzled as common folks in trying to find out what the Dr. was driving at, what policy he favored, or what party he was talking for, and the "home organ" fails to do him the scant courtesy of even a reference to his speech. We suggest to our contemporary that it should certainly publish the address with which its Congressional candidate opened the Fusion campaign.

Mr. Thing, another of the Commercial's candidates, also made a powerful speech the same evening, but not a word of it has been printed by our Fusion contemporary. What is the trouble? Is it "Too Hot" here as well as at Portland?

THE DUTY ON HAY.

[Lewiston Journal.]

Congressman Dingley introduced into the House on Monday, a bill (which was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means,) to place the duty on imported hay at the rate (20 per cent.) contemplated by the tariff laws. The necessity for such legislation was pointed out recently in a letter from Capt. Boutelle of Bangor, to the Maine Senators from which it appeared that imported hay was classed in the unenumerated list of manufactured articles, paying a duty of 20 per cent., until a short time ago, when the United States Court decided that it is an unmanufactured product, and therefore liable to pay a duty of only 10 per cent. when imported from Canada. The bill would be at once reported and passed, if it were not the fact that the Democrats assault every tariff bill with reputed amendments designed to take up time, kill it and obstruct legislation. As these tactics of the Democratic Congressmen would probably render it impossible to pass any bill at this late day of the session, it is probable the correction may have to lay over till December.

Our Washington despatches show that Mr. Dingley's bill has been promptly reported to the Committee of the Whole House, although it is significant to note that the Ways and Means Committee divided upon it by a strict party vote, the Democrats all opposing the restoration of the duty.—ED. WHIG.

[Maine Farmer.]

Capt. Charles A. Boutelle, of the Bangor WHIG, has forwarded a letter to the Maine Senators, in which he forcibly and clearly calls attention to the the fact that Secretary Folger yields to a judicial opinion classifying hay as a "non-enumerated, unmanufactured article," dutiable at 10 per cent. instead of 20 per cent. as hitherto. Capt. Boutelle calls attention to the fact that this reduction in the duty is a blow to Maine's agricultural interests, and asks our Senators and Representatives to secure the restoration of the 20 per cent. duty. Capt. Boutelle estimates the value of this year's Maine hay crop to be from fifteen to eighteen millions of dollars, or an increase of some 25 per cent. over ten years ago. He estimates the hay crop of the country to be worth more than the cotton crop, one-half the cereal crop, four times the potato crop and eight times the the tobacco crop, and pertinently suggests that Maine farmers should have as sure protection as the manufacturers of Massachusetts and the iron furnaces of Pennsylvania. Capt. Boutelle also calls attention to the fact that our vicinity to the British provinces renders the adjustment of the duty on hay an imperative obligation.

[Rockland Free Press.]

The Secretary of the Treasury of the United States having instructed Collectors of Customs, that in conformity with a recent decision of the U. S. Circuit Court, of the Northern District of New York, the duty on hay will hereafter be ten per cent. instead of twenty per cent. as hitherto, Hon. C. A. Boutelle, of Bangor, has addressed an urgent letter to Senators Frye and Hale, requesting them to use their influence to restore the former duty.

MR. BLAINE'S VINDICATION.

[From the Philadelphia Press (Rep.)]

Mr. Hurlbut, of the World, was a witness before the committee investigating the South American policy, and has since been persistent in charging that the interposition of the Landreau claim prevented the success of our negotiations in Chili and Peru. The letter of Mr. Trescott, which we published yesterday, sadly interferes with Mr. Hurlbut's theory, and Mr. Trescott's statements are unassailable. He states that from the beginning to the end of our negotiations with the South American belligerents the Landreau claim was never once mentioned either to the Chilian or Peruvian Governments, and therefore, in Mr. Trescott's own language, "could not have affected pending diplomatic questions in the remotest degree." Mr. Trescott's entire letter is very interesting and important. It not only shows the prudence of Mr. Blaine's negotiation, but singularly attests the correctness of all Mr. Blaine's statements of his policy.

Wilder W. Perry, the leading Greenbacker of Camden, declines to be a candidate for Senator. Is Achilles sulking in his tent?—Lewiston Journal.

A REVOLVING LIGHT.

"The Greenback doctrine is a dangerous one. I should consider the annihilation of the National Banks one of the greatest financial evils that could come upon our country."—H. M. Plaisted in Commercial, May 24, 1878.

"I stand fully in accord with the Greenback party, and I feel that if elected I have only to follow my convictions of right in order to represent you."—H. M. Plaisted in Greenback State Convention at Bangor, June 1, 1880.

GOV. PLAISTED AND THE MEN WHO WENT TO THE FRONT.

A correspondent of the Kennebec Journal writes that paper as follows: "The Portland Advertiser has something to say about the men who went to the front and risked their lives in defence of their country. Very pretty. But how does Gov. Plaisted stand by those who went to the front, and who to-day bear the marks made by rebel bullets on their bodies? A few facts shall answer. The ink used in recording the oath he took when entering on the duties of his great office was hardly dry before, with oaths and threatenings, he made war upon Major House, a soldier who not only went to the front, but one who bears on his body scars made by rebel bullets. Though shattered in health, bleeding at the lungs, weak and unable to do hard work, with quite a large family dependent upon him for a living, Plaisted forced him out of a position he had honorably filled, and put in his place his minor son, a mere youth. Next, we find him striking at Major Myrick, acknowledged by all to be as good a soldier as ever went to the front from Maine. Next you find him overriding the Constitution, trampling upon the opinion of the court in an assault on Col. Spaulding, Reporter of Decisions of the Courts of our State. Col. Spaulding was at the front, wounded there, bears upon his person marks of valor as does Major House. Plaisted not only seeks to drive this brave man from his position in violation of law, but refuses to pay him for the labor performed in the discharge of his duties, said duties having been performed by Col. Spaulding to the entire satisfaction of the courts, and all the people of our State, unless it be Gov. Plaisted.

The Governor in this case put the State in the unenviable position of being a violator of its own contract, made under its great Seal. The contract was made, it remains in full force and virtue to-day, in no way annulled or abridged, so says the Supreme Court of our State. The law says the Reporter of Decisions shall be paid quarterly. Now I submit, to the honest men of Maine of all parties, whether or not the Governor in his persecution of this brave man, having taken an oath to see that the laws and contracts of the State are faithfully executed, is not guilty of a violation of that oath in refusing to pay Col. Spaulding, the sum agreed when he entered upon the duties of his office?

Dr. Thompson, of Dover, is another, who went to the front to care for the sick and wounded, whom the Governor has sought to drive from a position he fills to the entire satisfaction of the people. Maj. Gallagher is another soldier who went to the front whom the Governor has made war upon, and driven from a position, the duties of which, from his long experience, no man could so well perform, and by whose removal the State is liable to pecuniary loss. This is the way the Governor stands by the men who went to the front. Strikes them down every chance he gets. Under what obligations is any soldier of Maine to him?"

The disappearance of the independent Republican movement in the arms of a leading Democrat of Cumberland county, shows that the whole rumor was a typographical error. The independent Democratic movement, however, seems to be feebly supported. One or two Republicans reported to be in the movement now rise to say that it is all news to them. Col. Mark F. Wentworth, of Kittery, a good and true Republican, says the rumor that he was connected with this independent Democracy is untrue. Considering that the campaign has hardly begun the imagination of the Fusion Ananias appears to be exceptionally fertile.—Lewiston Journal.

Mr. Stephens will doubtless be elected Governor of Georgia, but he will not receive the united support of the Democratic party. The Macon Telegraph, one of the most influential papers in the State, refuses to indorse his nomination. It says, "the miserable platform is beneath contempt," and consists of "a lot of state platitudes about Jefferson and Madison," and adds: "Taking into consideration all the means and appliances by which Mr. Stephens's nomination was brought about, we do not consider it of binding force upon any Democrat inside or outside the convention. We claim for ourselves and each member of the party that he shall govern his action in this emergency according to the dictates of his own judgment and conscience. In view of the past record of Mr. Stephens, he and his friends cannot take valid objection to this position."

The Boston Globe's correspondents in Maine bid fair to outdo in reckless mendacity all previous efforts in that line, when a campaign is pending. Perhaps this sort of thing pays; it advertises the paper, and secures for it momentary attention. But to suppose that it does not react, not only upon the cause it espouses but upon the paper itself, is to suppose that the people prefer smartness to honesty and falsehood to fact.—Concord Monitor.

Dr. A. A. Morse, of Camden, S. C., thus describes the wounds inflicted upon Major Blair when he was shot in cold-blood by James L. Haile: "I examined the dead body of Major L. W. R. Blair and found five gun-shot wounds, though only three shots were fired. Two of the shots passed through the body, each of the two shots making a wound of entrance and a wound of exit. The third shot lodged in the body. The wounds were as follows: One wound was through the heart, the fifth rib being fractured; another was through the lower lobe of the right lung, the eighth rib being fractured; another was through the stomach; another was under the right shoulder blade, and the fifth was in the left side." Major Blair was unarmed when thus shot down by his cowardly assailant.

THE CROPS. The Cincinnati Commercial, which is one of the best authorities on the crops, says the last week has made certain a good corn crop. It will be sufficient for all our needs and leave millions upon millions of bushels for export. The wheat is saved and is glorious, and there will be no lack of potatoes this time, while buckwheat will be abundant. Pasturage was never more luxuriant and cattle and sheep are thriving.

In England, according to the Liverpool Mercury, while the hay and wheat crops are partial failures, the other crops are more promising. Oats look exceedingly well, and barley is above the average. Root crops, owing to superabundant moisture, are flourishing with great luxuriance. Pasturage is abundant, with a substantial aftermath assured.

Reports from Virginia describe the Bourbons as in a demoralized state. The prospect was disheartening enough for them before the refusal of the State Committee to call a convention to nominate a candidate for Congressman-at-Large. The failure to do that seems to be taken as a virtual confession of defeat, and the prospect of rallying the party at the polls for Massey is considered hopeless.

The Belfast Age goes even ahead of the Commercial in its Free Trade folly. It not only opposes the protection of our farm products, but openly advocates the abolition of all duty on foreign lumber! We shall be glad to go to the farmers and lumbermen of Maine on that issue.

The Hotel de Ville, the new municipal building of Paris, which has just been dedicated, covers an area of 10,000 square yards and contains 368 separate apartments. If the estimates are not at fault it will cost about $5,000,000. The interior decorations will probably not be completed for several years. The exterior is a tolerably faithful copy of the famous edifice which, after an existence of nearly four centuries, was destroyed by the Communists on May 24, 1871.

Some one has proposed putting an electric light of $6,000 candle power on the observatory at the summit of Mount Washington, the idea being thus to provide an artificial attraction, for which the hotel proprietors of the region would gladly pay.

The Government is now building in Delaware a fine new iron steamship for the special use of the Fish Commission. It is to cost $200,000, to be named the Albatross, and to be ready in about four months. Its dimensions will be: Length, 200 feet; beam, 27 feet 6 inches; depth of hold, 16 feet 9 inches; burthen, 800 tons. Among the special appliances fitting the vessel for its purpose will be a deep-sea dredge and eight miles of wire rope. One of the first important services of the Albatross will be the transportation to London of the collection which will represent this country in the great Fish Exposition next May. Passed Assistant-Engineer G. W. Baird is superintending the construction of the vessel, which will be under the direction of Commissioner Baird.

PREPARING FOR THE TRANSIT OF VENUS.

A Washington despatch says: The organization of the parties to observe the transit of Venus on December 6, next, has been long delayed in consequence of the failure of Congress to complete the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill. The Commission has, however, selected the chiefs of parties and the stations at which observations are to be made. Of the stations in the Southern hemisphere two will be in South America, one in South Africa and one in New Zealand. The southernmost of the South American stations is to be at Port Santa Cruz, on the east coast of Patagonia in 50° of south latitude. The other South American station will be at Santiago in Chili or at some point in the interior. The exact locations of the stations in Cape Colony and New Zealand have not been fixed, but will depend upon the weather probabilities as learned by the observers after their arrival. The following men have been selected to take charge of the four parties: Lieutenant S. W. Very, U. S. N., for Santa Cruz, Patagonia; Professor Lewis Voss, of the Dudley Observatory, Albany, for Santiago, Chili; Edwin Smith, of the United States Coast Survey, for New Zealand; Professor S. Newcomb, superintendent of the Nautical Almanac, for the Cape of Good Hope.

As the parties have not yet come together, it is possible that there may be some changes in these arrangements. The principal stations in the United States will be four in number, namely, Cedar Keys, Fla.; San Antonio, Texas, and Fort Thorn, New Mexico. It is expected that they will be in charge of Professors Hall, Harkness and Eastman, of the Naval Observatory, and Professor Davison, of the Coast Survey. The stations to be established by European Governments in this part of the world are as follows: Germany, at Hartford, Connecticut, and Aiken, South Carolina; France, one in Florida, one at Martinique, one in Mexico; Belgium, one in Texas; Great Britain, one at Bermuda, one in Jamaica and one at the Barbadoes. The American observers will depend chiefly upon photography, which is their strong point, the American photographs taken at the last transit being the only ones which were serviceable. The Germans depend upon the heliometer, and the French and English and Belgians upon contact.

PERSONAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Lieutenant Governor Hamilton, of Illinois, and his family are visiting Boston and its vicinity.

It is said that President Arthur and Cabinet will visit San Francisco at the close of the Denver Exposition.

Mr. Henry G. Crowell, of Boston, has been appointed trustee of the Francis Amory estate, over which there has been so much controversy, in place of Augustus Lowell, resigned. The estate is valued at several hundred thousand dollars.

Attorney General Brewster stated Wednesday that there was not a grain of truth in the reports that he contemplated a trip to England. He was perfectly satisfied with his present position and had no desire or intention to change it for the English mission.

This well-known resort of the sportsman, invalid and tourist, is now open for the season. During the Spring the house has been greatly enlarged, thoroughly refitted and has been placed under the management of H. E. Capen, formerly of the Kineo House.

Good table, plenty of fish and game, best of clean beds, and constant attention to the wants and comfort of guests can be relied upon.

The most reliable physicians in the State unite in stating that this is the healthiest resort in Maine. The wonderful tonic of the "Katahdin" mineral spring waters, constantly on draught at the hotel, and the pure dry air of the forests and mountains, invigorate the debilitated, while the beautiful mountain ponds and the rapid streams invite and reward the sportsmen. Best of fishing, boating and gunning facilities. Saddle and carriage horses and buckboards to be had at all times.

The Bangor & Katahdin Iron Works Railway, now running to Brownville, will be completed to the Iron Works early in September. Advantages of the Acorn Oil Stove.

The Oil Reservoir is so isolated from contact with heated plates; so protected on all sides by the free circulation of air, that the overheating of the oil is impossible.

The combustion is so perfect in this Stove, that Steaks, Chops, &c., &c., can be broiled on it to perfection. Not the slightest odor or taste is noticed, more than if broiled over any fire.

It can be placed within reach of the ironing table, moved up or down stairs, and the kitchen kept as cool as the parlor.

Breakfast can be made ready in the same time that a fire can be kindled in a Coal Stove, and in summer the kitchen is not overheated.

GERMAN

EXTRACT.

This Extract makes one of the most delicious summer drinks to use. It is refreshing and cooling to the blood after over-work, stimulating the digestive organs, increasing the appetite, and it is used extensively on the tables, instead of hot tea and coffee, which are expensive, and also heating to the blood. It is Nature's own stimulant in the hay field; every farmer should have it, as the men can do more work by using the beverage, for the reason that they do not have to use as much to quench their thirst, as of other drinks, nor does it make them have a languid feeling. It is easily prepared.

One bottle makes six gallons of beer.

[Ch]URCH HOPES FOR VICTORY

But the Chances are "Agin" Him.

BOSTON, July 27. The Journal's Wash[ing]ton despatch says: Congressman Murch [ap]pears to be the authority for the reports [in]dustriously put in circulation here in the [pas]t few days that the Fusionists in Maine [wi]ll carry their general ticket, which will [inc]lude the Governor and four Congress[men]. Murch does not feel quite warrant[ed] yet in predicting the election of the [Fusi]on Legislature but he is confident of [the] success of the Fusion general ticket. [His] statements do not agree with advices [rec]eived by Republican Senators and Rep[res]entatives from Maine, which show per[fec]t organization of the force there, with [ea]rnest determination to carry the State. [Th]ey are highly encouraged by these as[su]rances and will return to their homes, [aft]er the adjournment, to take an active [pa]rt in the campaign.

Straight Greenback Convention.

PORTLAND, July 27. The Straight [G]reenback County Convention met at Port[la]nd to-day, Rev. W. F. Eaton, Cape Eliz[a]beth, chairman. Thirty delegates were [p]resent out of seventy-two. The follow[in]g ticket was nominated: Senators—P. H. [G]ordon, Portland; Charles B. [R]esolutions were passed from the platform [a]dopted at Bangor May 30, and at Chica[g]o in 1882, and pledging support to nomi[n]ees.

Faith Convention.

OLD ORCHARD, July 27. The first day [o]f the Faith Convention dawned clear and [b]right with a refreshing breeze drawing [th]rough the trees surrounding the grounds. The first meeting was a prayer meeting, lasting one hour, under charge of Rev. B. B. Scott, of Boston. About three hundred were present. Following this was an experience meeting opened and led by Dr. Charles Cullis, continuing from 8 30 A. M. to 10 A. M. Rev. F. D. Sanford, of New York, led a meeting in the Biddeford Tabernacle at 2 o'clock. From 2.30 to 3 30 there was a general prayer and conference meeting led by Capt. R. K. Carter, of Chester, Penn. This was specially interesting. Campmeeting John Allen gave a Scripture reading. There was preaching from 3 30 to 5 o'clock by Rev. C. C. Mallory, of Lowell; ministers and evangelist meeting in Biddeford Tabernacle at 6.30; an experience meeting in Saccarappa tent at 6 30 by Rev. Mr. McHindey; ladies' meeting at 6 P. M., under charge of Mrs. Cullis; preaching at 7 30.

LEWISTON, July 27. The dwelling of James Donohue was burned to-night. Insured in the North British for $1,800 which will cover the loss.

MACHIAS, July 27. James Worcester's house and building in Columbia were burned yesterday. Loss about $1,500; insured for $1,000.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS--First Session

Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 27. The House amendments to the Creek orphan fund bill was non-concurred in. The Naval Appropriation bill was taken up.

The question was upon the motion of Mr. Cameron, of Pa., to recommit the bill with instructions to eliminate all general legislation, changing the existing laws in regard to the navy. Mr. Bayard supported the motion. Mr. Hale suggested that such legislation would be better understood if discussed in open Senate than it would be if the discussion of it was confined to a committee.

A long debate occurred. Mr. Hawley commended the wisdom of the provisions concerning a naval advisory board and the sale of old hulks and useless material, but deprecated others, which he characterized as vicious elements and said if they were retained he would take the responsibility of voting against the bill on the ground that legislation on an appropriation bill is wrong. The matter of recasting the personnel of the navy ought not to have been entered upon without more deliberate consideration. He suggested the appointment of a commission to report on this subject at the next session. What the country wanted was not another example of vicious legislation on an appropriation bill, but a navy—a reformed and not a rotten navy. After further debate the motion to recommit the naval bill to the Appropriations Committee, with instructions to eliminate all features of general legislation, was lost.

Adjourned.

House.

A bill passed fixing the salary of the Collector of Customs of Chicago at $7,000. Mr. Kasson, of Iowa, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported back the bill recently introduced by Mr. Dingley, of Me., readjusting the duty on imported hay at 20 per cent. ad valorem; referred to Committee of the Whole. The Committee on Ways and Means authorized this report by a party vote.

The Senate bill for the sale of part of the reservation of the Omah Indians in Nebraska passed. Mr. Ritchie, from the Committee on Patents, called up the Senate bill to amend the statutes in relation to copyrights, and it passed. Mr. Reed, chairman of the Committee on Judiciary, called up the Senate bill regulating fees and practice in extradition cases, and it passed with amendment. The Senate bill granting the right of way for railway and telegraph purposes to the St. Louis & San Francisco Railway Company through the Choctaw and Chickasaw reservations passed after some debate.

Mr. Williams, Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, reported back the resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Navy for the correspondence with or instructions to Admiral Nicholson, relative to the extraordinary order to open fire on Alexandria under certain conditions; also asking information as to whether American sailors had been performing police duty under the British Admiral. Mr. Williams said the committee was in the possession of information on the subject and asked that the resolution be tabled and documents, containing the information printed; so ordered.

THE WAR IN EGYPT

More Soldiers Landed.

ACTIVITY IN EGYPTIAN LINES.

The Sultan Denounces Arabi.

ENGLISH RESERVES CALLED OUT.

Disturbance at Port Said.

Seizure of Important Correspondence.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27—noon. Eight hundred soldiers are being landed from the troop ship Orontes.

The Orontes will proceed to Port Said and land marines. There is great activity in the enemy's line. Egyptian soldiers, disguised as Bedouins, have carried off ten cases of gun powder from Fort Mukbebe, near Meks. Emissaries from Arabi have been preaching in the mosques at Mukbebe almost daily. It has been therefore, decided to occupy the fort and also the fort commanding the road along the shore of Lake Mareotis, near which patrols of the enemy are frequently seen. The fire here is in the native quarter; it is believed to be incendiary.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 27. Four Turkish ironclads and five transports are ready to start for Egypt; notwithstanding the preparations doubts are expressed that the expedition will actually be despatched.

LONDON, July 27. The Times' Ramleh correspondent says: Forty soldiers under Major Eyre proceeded a mile and a half beyond the farthest outlying picket, to occupy a house on the bank of Mahmoudieh canal, opposite Mallaha Junction. A scouting party last evening traversed the line of the hitherto unexamined country, two miles beyond Ramleh, meeting nobody. It is believed the naval brigade is going to Ismailia.

A telegram, dated Alexandria, at one o'clock this afternoon, states that the threatening activity within Arabi's lines is increasing.

The Sultan Decides to Denounce Arabi as a Traitor.

LONDON, July 27. The Times' Alexandria despatch confirms the report that Arabi is in regular communication with parties in England. The Khedive has ordered a commission of inquiry into the reports of looting by English. Gen. Allison consents that the investigation shall be made. The Egyptian soldiers at Aboukir refused to embark upon the Charkieh. At last reports the flag of truce was still flying there. As a vessel was leaving Aboukir a train was seen carrying troops into the forts.

The Admiralty has chartered the Cunard steamer Marathon for a transport.

The Daily News' Constantinople's despatch says: "The Sultan has decided to denounce Arabi as a traitor. The Sultan received Dervisch Pasha on his return from Egypt, very coldly, and complained that he did not persuade Admiral Seymour to delay the bombardment.

Another Fire in Alexandria.

The Daily News' Alexandria correspondent says: "A tremendous conflagration broke out in Alexandria this morning, as seen from the harbor. The fire seems to be larger than any since the bombardment."

An official telegram from the Rebel Government, dated Cairo, 26th, says: "Armaments continue on an extensive scale. Volunteers are arriving from upper and lower Egypt. Some chiefs of the Bedouins, who prior to the bombardment were known as partisans of the Khedive, have promised fidelity, and all of the best class of Mussulmans, including the Prince and Princess of the Khedive's family, now in Cairo, are aiding the Government.

The British Defeated in two Engagements.

Ladies have formed a committee for the preparation of lint. The British have been defeated in two engagements, leaving 40 killed. The Official Gazette publishes a letter from Arabi which declares that any person found in the possession of the proclamation dismissing Arabi Pasha from the ministry would be court martialed. The army will do its duty and defend the country to the last extremity. If the commercial and political interests of the Powers do not induce them to stop the British invasion, a terrible struggle must ensue. Some Italians, Swiss, Germans and French remain in the public administration and continue to receive marks of confidence, notwithstanding the British intrigues to depopulate Egypt."

Rumor that Arabi has Withdrawn to Damanhour.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27—9:25 p. m. The garrison at Aboukir having refused to surrender the forts there will probably be bombarded, Friday.

It is rumored that Arabi Pasha has withdrawn with the bulk of his army to Damanhour, leaving outposts at Kafer el Dowar.

Letter from Arabi to the Sultan.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27. Arabi Pasha has written to the Sultan as follows: "I trust it is false that as the enemies of Islam assert, Ottoman troops are coming to Egypt, as I should have to oppose them by force."

Reserves to be Called Out.

LONDON, July 27. In the House of Lords this afternoon an address to the Queen approving the calling out of the Reserves was adopted.

How the Reserves are to be Distributed.

LONDON, July 27. In Commons debate was resumed on the motion for a vote of credit for the Egyptian expedition and the motion was carried—275 to 19.

LONDON, July 27. In Commons, Sir Hugh Childers said of the 10,000 Reserves just summoned 3000 would be sent to Egypt, another 3000 would form the Reserve Corps and the remainder will be drafted into regiments at home. He hoped and believed the campaign will be closed in three months.

A Letter from Admiral Seymour.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27. Admiral Seymour has addressed the following letter to the Khedive regarding the false statements circulated by Arabi Pasha and those acting under his orders: I think it right to repeat that Great Britain has no intention of conquering Egypt for herself or of interfering in any way with the religion or liberties of the Egyptians. Her only object is to protect the Khedive and Egyptians against the rebels. Great Britain is determined to suppress the rebellion and restore order. I beg you will warn the soldiers not to obey rebel commanders. The British Government advises the Egyptians to regard Arabi Pasha and his accomplices as traitors to their sovereign and enemies of themselves and their country. (Signed) SEYMOUR.

Marines En Route for Egypt.

LONDON, July 27. The steamship Dacca with 580 marines left Portsmouth to-day for Egypt.

The Governor and Assistant take Refuge on board an English Ship.

PORT SAID, July 25. Arabi Pasha having sent for the Assistant Governor, the latter applied to Rear Admiral Hoskins for protection and took refuge on a steamer. When Arabi learned this he ordered the Commander of the troops to take the Assistant Governor's place. Thereupon the Governor became alarmed and also took refuge on the steamer. A telegram from Arabi's Under-Secretary of War, at Cairo, stated, as the Governor had gone on board the English ship the commander of the troops would be held responsible for order, pending the appointment of a new Governor. The commander of the troops is known to have stated, after the bombardment of Alexandria, he was awaiting orders to fire Port Said.

Riot at Port Said.

PORT SAID, July 26. The night before last the inhabitants of an Arab village here led by fanatical priests attempted to enter the European portion of the town, but were repulsed by the military. The following day the French Consul applied to Admiral Conrad for protection for French subjects. The French Admiral subsequently asked Rear Admiral Hoskins to make a feint occupation to preserve order and this was arranged for. Last night when DeLesseps suddenly returned from Ismail, a violent scene occurred between him and representatives of the French colony. The Consul, DeLesseps said, considered Port Said his property; that consul "as a fool for asking for occupation; that it was playing into the hands of England to do so and that there was no danger.

When everything was ready for landing the French Admiral refused to carry out his part of the arrangement. DeLesseps visited the Governor and Assistant Governor, who were still on board the Mongolia, and Rear Admiral Hoskins, but failed to bring them to his views. Reinforcements are arriving every night from Fort Guemil. The Governor tells me he considers the delay in occupying the town to be fatal as the Arabs are becoming stronger daily.

The British Corvette Orion

has arrived bringing instructions which completely modify the situation here. De Lesseps protested against her entering the canal but she entered without paying dues.

An Important Seizure.

ALEXANDRIA, July 26. A very important seizure was made to-day of secret correspondence which passed prior to the bombardment between the military party and the French officials.

The correspondence is said to prove incontestably that all the suspicions entertained as to the military being secretly supported by the French are well founded.

Political Matters.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27. The Independent Republican State Convention met this morning to consider the peace propositions submitted by the regular Republican State Committee. A motion to consider the propositions was adopted. The first two were rejected unanimously, without discussion, but the consideration of the third gave rise to animated debate.

A letter was received from Senator Mitchell, in which he says that nothing short of a new ticket, of such men as shall command the respect and support of all Republicans, is wise, just and practical. After the debate the committee formally rejected all four of the stalwart propositions for harmony. A reply is to be framed.

The Independents, after a recess, adopted a long reply to the propositions of the regulars, rejecting all of them and stating that harmonious action can only be assured by the adoption of the propositions of the Independent Republican candidates in their letter of July 13.

A GOOD FOUNDATION.

In American households the prevailing complaints are weakness of the stomach and its consequences, Indigestion, Nervousness and Rheumatism. Such sufferers can lay a good foundation for health by using Parker's Ginger Tonic as it tones up the stomach and nerves, and keeps the kidneys active to carry off the foul matter.—N. O. Picayune. eod&wlm jy19

It is no wonder that invalids lose faith in all specifics, when so many worthless medicines are advertised to cure various diseases, but which, when tried, are "found wanting." We have yet to learn, however of the first failure of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry to cure coughs, colds, and pulmonary diseases.

d&w1w jy27

The young man or woman who must forsake society because of mortifying freckles, tan, tetter, pimples and itching excoriations of the face, should use some of Dr. Benson's Skin Cure. It cleanses the scalp and is good for the toilet. d&w

BALM IN GILEAD.

There is a balm in Gilead to heal each gaping wound;

In Thomas' Eclectric Oil, the remedy is found.

For internal and for outward use, you freely may apply it;

For all pain and inflammation, you should not fail to try it.

It only costs a trifle, 'tis worth its weight in gold,

And by every dealer in the land this remedy is sold. d&w1w

AN IMPOSSIBILITY.

Deserving articles are always appreciated. The exceptional cleanliness of Parker's Hair Balsam makes it popular. Gray hairs are impossible with its occasional use.

It cures dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, gout, and all diseases arising from impurities of the blood. Price $1.00, trial size 10 cents.

THE ARMY WORM.

Arrival of This Dreaded Pest in This Vicinity.

The army worm has arrived in this vicinity and has already commenced its depredations on the crops. The first appearance of this obnoxious worm was noticed a few days since in the park in the rear of the Bangor House, where a great number of these worms were visible. We were yesterday shown some which were found on the City Farm at the Alms House, and learn that they are very numerous there, and have already begun to attack the growing wheat.

The army worm (Leucania unipuncta) is the larva of a dusty brown moth which, when its wings are folded, is about three-fourths of an inch in length. It is usually the case that where the worms appear the moths or millers have been much more numerous than common, and with that wonderful instinct which guides most insects to seek places to deposit their eggs where the young can have food, they select plowed fields in the fall, and then about mid summer hordes of the worms are hatched and at once commence their ravages upon the growing grain. They attack not only grain fields, but often grass and corn; in fact, they seem to devour every green thing with almost equal relish. Their capacity for increase is so great that but for their natural enemies they would speedily overcome the farmer and have everything their own way. They have numerous enemies from which they have no protection. There are no less than six ichneumon flies that deposit their eggs upon this worm, producing ultimately its death, but they are relished by every feathered fowl which in the infested districts luxuriate on an abundance of food. Numerous means have been adopted for their destruction, but complete success has not heretofore been achieved. The subject promises to be one of vital importance and we subjoin in a condensed form the advice of Prof. Reilly, entomologist to the National Department of Agriculture.

"Burning as a preventive loses much of its practical importance unless it is pursued annually, because of the irregularity in the appearance of the worm in injurious number, judicious ditching, i. e., a ditch with the side toward the field to be protected perpendicular or sloping under, will protect a field from invasions from some other infected region when the worms are marching. When they are collected in the ditch they may be destroyed either by covering them up with earth that is pressed upon them, by burning straw over them, or by pouring a little coal-oil in the ditch. A single plow furrow, six or eight inches deep and kept friable by dragging brush in it, has also been known to head them off. From experiments which I have made I am satisfied that where fence-lumber can be easily obtained it may be used to advantage as a substitute for the ditch or trench, by being secured on edge and then smeared with kerosene or coal-tar (the latter being more particularly useful) along the upper edge. By means of laths and a few nails the boards may be so secured that they will slightly slope away from the fields to be protected. Such a barrier will prove effectual when the worms are not too persistent or numerous. When they are excessively abundant they will need to be watched and occasionally dosed with kerosene to prevent their piling up even with the top of the board and thus bridging the barrier. The lumber is not injured for other purposes subsequently."

PLANS OF TWO MANAGERS.

Mr. Abbey's Engagements for Next Season.

HOW THE LONDON AND PARIS THEATRES COMPARE WITH THOSE IN NEW YORK—THE TOURS OF MRS. LANGTRY AND MME. NILSSON—MR. IRVING'S INTENTIONS.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

Among the passengers on board the steamship Germanic, of the White Star Line, which arrived recently, was Henry E. Abbey, the theatrical manager, who has been in England for several months endeavoring to persuade some of the principal actors and singers of Europe to come to America under his management. Mr. Abbey received a Tribune reporter, who called upon him at the Union Square Hotel, cordially and expressed himself as well satisfied with the results of his labors abroad.

"We had a very comfortable passage, thank you," he said. "Mr. Haverly came over with us, and we also had the company of the Chinese Ambassador and his suite. The celestial gentlemen made it very interesting for the rest of the passengers. You wish to know something about my plans for the coming season? Well, as far as theatres are concerned, I shall have the Park and the Grand Opera House here in New York, and the Park Theatre in Boston. They will all be managed as 'combination' theatres. At the Park, in this city, only new plays will be brought out, with old attractions in the way of actors, while at the Grand Opera House and the Park Theatre in Boston old plays will be produced. For the season of 1883-'84, I have leased the Lyceum Theatre in London from September 1, 1883. I shall bring out different American plays and actors there, but I haven't decided on any programme yet."

"How do the English and the European theatres in general compare with American houses, Mr. Abbey?"

"Oh, our theatres here are vastly superior to the English ones, and the latter are just as far ahead of the French. The Lyceum Theatre is very large and is one of the handsomest I ever saw, but it is inconveniently arranged. If you want to get in to the orchestra stalls you have to go up a long narrow staircase, down another one, and through a narrow passage. That plan would make things interesting in case of a fire, wouldn't it? The Criterion Theatre is entirely underground, with the top gallery exactly on a level with the street. All the English play-houses are hot and 'stuffy.' French theatres are worse; they are shabby and terribly dirty. The carpets are changed once every fifteen years, and soap and water are things that are entirely unknown there."

"What arrangements have you made with Mrs. Langtry?"

"She will sail for this country on the Alaska on September 30, and will begin playing on either October 23 or 30. She will play first in New York, but I haven't decided in what theatre yet. She will stay here three or four weeks and then go to Boston and other large cities. Her plays will be 'An Unequal Match,' 'She Stoops to Conquer,' 'The Honeymoon,' 'As You Like It,' and some others not yet decided upon. I met Mrs. Langtry in Sheffield. She had been playing through the 'provinces' in 'An Unequal Match,' and 'She Stoops to Conquer,' and had had wonderful success, playing for double prices everywhere. She made more money than Irving did, I've no doubt, her expenses being less than his. Mrs. Langtry can hardly be called an actress; she hasn't been at it long enough. She shows the lack of experience, but she is the best amateur I ever saw. She is going to make a great actress in time. I don't want to state the terms of my contract with her, but I had to make her a very tempting offer to induce her to leave England. I shall bring a company with her, consisting of H. G. Graham, of the Vaudeville, and Frank Cooper, of the Haymarket, as leading juveniles; J. G. Taylor, of the Comedy Theatre, a comedian; Edwin Shepard, of Drury Lane, as leading old man; and Miss Kate Patterson and Miss Myra Holme, as leading juvenile ladies. Miss Patterson has been having good success in the provinces recently and was formerly a favorite in London. Miss Holme belongs to the Prince of Wales Theatre company. Mrs. Langtry will first play 'An Unequal Match.' She will be in this country five or six months."

"How about Mme. Nilsson; when is she coming and what is she going to do when she gets here, Mr. Abbey?"

"She will sail on October 14, in the Gallia. She will sing only in concerts and oratorios, and will appear first in Boston on November 1. She will sing fifty or more nights, as I may decide. I will bring a company with her, but only two of them are engaged yet. They are Signor Del Puente, the baritone, and and Miss Hope Glenn, a contralto. I find great difficulty in getting a suitable tenor. Miss Glenn is an American, who has been singing with much success in London for several years. There will probably be a pianist with the company, but most of the accompaniments will be played by the Mendelssohn Quintet Club, of Boston, whom I have engaged to accompany Miss Nilsson. I heard her in St. James' Hall, London, on her second appearance after her husband's death. She was dressed in dark mourning and looked exceedingly well. Her voice has developed and becomes much fuller and more rounded since she was here. She sang divinely, and was received with an enthusiasm that I never saw equalled."

"It has been reported that Irving was coming to this country to visit, this year; do you know whether he will or not?"

"He had decided to do so, but finally changed his mind. He will come under my management for the season of 1883-'84, and will begin playing on October 29, 1883. His engagement is for six months. Miss Ellen Terry and the whole company of the Lyceum Theatre, or at least every speaking actor, will come with him. I shall also bring all the scenery, furniture and properties of the theatre. It will take eight baggage cars to carry around the scenery alone. Mr. Irving and his company will produce eight plays, exactly as they are brought out in the Lyceum Theatre in every particular. The plays are not all determined upon yet, but 'The Bells,' 'Charles the First,' 'The Merchant of Venice,' and 'The Lyons Mail' will all be brought out certainly."

"How do you like Mr. Irving's acting?"

"I didn't like it at all at first, but after seeing him a number of times, and after getting accustomed to his many peculiar mannerisms, I am charmed with it. He is the best stage manager I ever saw. His great success lies in his close attention to every detail, even the most insignificant. Nothing escapes his notice, and he does everything in the best way he can. Americans may not like his peculiarities in the beginning, but I am sure that Irving will grow in favor with the public here as soon as he is well known. His mannerisms are not English; they are personal. No one in England ever likes him at first."

"Did you see Sarah Bernhardt?"

"Yes; I met her, but did not see her on the stage. She will appear in the Vaudeville Theatre in Paris in the winter. She will never join the Théâtre Français Company again, as she can make more money out of it than she can in it. The most anyone ever made in the Théâtre Français was 60,000 francs a year. That's hardly enough for Sarah."

WHAT MR. HAVERLY INTENDS TO DO.

J. H. Haverly, the well-known theatrical manager, arrived from Europe on the steamship Germanic. He went to the Fifth Avenue Hotel and spent the day quietly resting, receiving only a few intimate friends. Mr. Haverly looks well and is in good spirits, but his face still bears the bronze of his ocean voyage. To a Tribune reporter he said last evening:

"We arrived this morning from Europe on the Germanic, our party consisting of myself, my wife and Mr. Foote, my London manager. We had a few days of bad weather at the start homeward, but after that it was fine. I have been gone about four months; I left New York on March 22. While abroad I confined myself to London and Paris, except a short trip I made to Scotland. Mr. Abbey was with us most of the time, and we had a good deal of enjoyment together. Abbey is a quiet fellow, you know, but for all that (laughingly) there is a good deal of music in him."

"What can you say about your plans for the coming season?" inquired the reporter.

"Well, they are hardly definite enough yet for me to say much about them. My trip abroad was entirely for rest. Mr. Abbey's trip was taken for business purposes, and I am glad to say that he was very successful. But while I expected to confine my trip to rest, I found after I had fully recovered that I could do some little business. And I did look over the ground abroad pretty thoroughly, with a view to taking some companies over there. I had no idea of bringing any companies over here, or of making any engagements for this side. I have given up the idea of trying to run Haverly against Haverly—I shall see which side of the fence pays the best, and then take that side. I will have only one theatre here—the Fourteenth street—one in Brooklyn, one in Philadelphia, one in San Francisco and one in Chicago.

"I received numbers of propositions while I was abroad," continued Mr. Haverly, "and some of them were very favorable ones to me. All I have done, however, has been to arrange for the introduction of a theatre in London. It will be something entirely new and will be run on the American plan throughout. I mean by that, that it will be built after our style, and will have all the modern improvements—something which you will find in no theatre there. Then I will run American pieces and depend on what attracts people here. Some persons say that this cannot be done, but I believe that it can be. At any rate, I am going to try it."

"Have you not returned sooner than you expected?"

"Oh, yes, fully five weeks. But I was called back by my business interests in Colorado—those connected with mining principally. They required my attention, and so I came on. But it is not true that I returned before I had intended because of my dissatisfaction with Mr. MacConnell's management of my business affairs. There is no more truth in that report than there is in many other reports which are now and then circulated about me. I have not had time to examine my account with him, in the first place, and could not know if I had anything about which to be dissatisfied with him."

Mr. Haverly was given a serenade at the Fifth Avenue Hotel by the members of the orchestra of his three theatres. Mr. Haverly responded in a brief speech, and he, the serenaders and several friends then went into supper at the hotel.

MR. WM. WESTFALL,

Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age, Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age and painful disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now of Washington Hollow in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon of Rondout, N. Y., some time since, in a condition to excite the sympathy of the most cold-blooded and hard-hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculus formations in the bladder. The usual instrumental examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a urinary calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and leave him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reasons Why

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is being extensively used by our people are as follows: It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

[From Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper.]

A LADY SAID

"Those Horrid Pimples! No, I Cannot Go. Please Present My Excuses."

Probably two thirds of the ladies in society and homes of our land are afflicted with skin diseases of various kinds, to do away with which, if it could be done without injury, would be the happiest event of their lives. Then she would have instead of a disfigured and marred countenance, one that would be handsome, or at least good looking, for any one with a clear, pure skin, no matter what the cut of her features are, has a certain amount of good looks which attract everybody. As it is now, she imagines every one sees and talks about "those freckles," "those horrid pimples," and other blemishes with which she is afflicted, and this is true of either sex.

To improve this appearance great risks are taken; arsenic, mercury, or high sound titled named articles containing these death-dealing drugs, are taken in hopes of getting rid of all these troubles. In many cases, death is the result. No alleviation of the burning, healing, itching and inflammation is given. All troubled with Eczema (salt rheum), Tetters, Humors, Inflammation, Rough Scaly Eruptions of any kind, Diseases of the Hair and Scalp, Scrofula, Ulcers, Pimples or Tender Itchings on any part of the body, should know that there is hope for them in a sure, perfect and elegant remedy, known as "Dr. C. W. Benson's Skin Cure." It makes the skin white, soft and smooth, removes tan and freckles, and is the best toilet dressing in the world. It is elegantly put up, two bottles in one package, consisting of both internal and external treatment. Our readers should be sure to get this and not some old remedy resuscitated on the success of Dr. Benson's and now advertised as "The Great Skin Cure." There is only one—it bears the Doctor's picture and is for sale by all druggists. $1 per package.

A Sensation

HAS OFTEN BEEN MADE

by the the discovery of some new thing, but nothing has ever stood the test like Dr. C. W. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills.

They really do cure sick headache, nervous headache, neuralgia, nervousness, sleeplessness, indigestion, paralysis, and melancholy.

Price, 50 cents per box, two for $1, six for $2.50, by mail, postage free.—Dr. C. W. Benson, Baltimore, Md. Sold by all druggists.
